Introduction

The Housing Ombudsman introduced a new Complaint Handling Code on 1st April 2024. The code is designed to improve how housing providers manage complaints, ensuring a fair and efficient process for Residents.

The key aspects are:

Clear Guidelines: The code outlines clear expectations for how complaints should be handled, emphasising the importance of a structured approach.

- Accessibility: It encourages housing providers to make their complaint processes easy to access and understand for all Residents.
- Timeliness: The code stresses the importance of timely responses, aiming to resolve issues quickly and prevent escalation.
- Transparency: Providers are expected to keep complainants informed throughout the process and to explain decisions clearly.
- Learning and Improvement: Housing providers are encouraged to learn from complaints to improve services and prevent similar issues in the future.
- Compliance Monitoring: The Ombudsman will monitor adherence to the code and can take action against providers that fail to comply.

Overall, the new code aims to foster a more responsive and accountable environment for addressing housing complaints, enhancing Resident satisfaction and trust in housing services.

Every year St John's Hospital, Wilton (the Charity) completes a self-assessment against the Complaint Handling Code. We have also completed a review of our Complaints Policy and Procedure documents to ensure compliance with the requirements of the new Code. Both documents are available to view on the Complaints Policy section of our website.

5. Self-Assessment Action Plan

The self-assessment showed areas where improvements were necessary to ensure compliance with the new code:

Mrs Rolfe also leads the Trustees' Well-Being Committee (WBC).

During the next 12 months we look forward to completing the improvements to both our accommodation and our site, as we continue to demonstrate our commitment to Residents. We welcome Residents' comments, whether compliments or constructive criticisms.

The Board encourages dialogue between the Residents and the Clerk and Warden whether formal or informal, to identify any areas of lower satisfaction, that we can improve on.

The Board wish to extend thanks to those Residents who have passed feedback to the staff, over the past year. This has assisted the Charity to complete the annual Self-Assessment and Complaints Performance and Service Improvement Report."
